FEELS RIGHT

What is cooking if not emotion? The feeling of stepping into a house and, before even crossing the threshold, catching that unmistakable aroma of ragù that makes your mouth water. The magic of seeing a gourmet dish, surprising you with its colors and harmony, even before tasting it. The explosion of flavors in the first bite of your favorite dish… for a moment, time stands still.
Our senses are deeply connected to emotions and memories – unintentionally, irreversibly. That's why every dish, every culinary creation, carries a story within it. A story both small and grand. A dish reflects the soul of its creator, intertwines with the memories of those savoring it, and mirrors the culture it comes from.
The story contained in this book is a tale of hunting. In every ingredient, in every pairing, it speaks of our passion. It is a story that stirs emotions with simplicity, flavor, and sometimes a touch of irreverence.
There are 52 "chapters", as many as the recipes in this volume. The narrators are the chefs of the Franchi Food Academy – our "fine pens of flavor" – who surprise us with their culinary visions and, in a way, reveal a bit of themselves. How? Through original, exotic, innovative, and intriguing recipes.
The last page is intentionally left blank – a space reserved for you and the new chapters yet to be written. Cooking is about emotion and exchange because, just as a story only comes alive when shared, a dish only finds its purpose when enjoyed together.
So, try, experiment, forget the script, and let your creativity run free.
All that is left is to wish you happy reading and… bon appétit!
